

New Jewish initiatives & their leaders matter!

Shine a light on your work and illuminate a landscape

If you are the founder or leader of a Jewish organization created in the 21st century you know how critical your work is to creating a healthy Jewish ecosystem for the future.

You have the power to ensure your organization, and the organizations you care about, are represented in the 2022 Survey of Contemporary Jewish Initiatives which will map and describe the landscape of innovative Jewish communities and projects shaping 21st century Jewish life.

Insights from this effort will help funders and other resource providers understand your important work and help them devise new ways to support it.

Register your organization and/or nominate others now to help shine a light on these important initiatives.
